Examining historical events from Ivan the Terrible's military dominance of Russia to the rise of communism after World War II, students learn to write and write to learn while globe-trotting through time!

Together with their global time-travel, students encounter a diverse assortment of short stories, poems, and novels complimenting eras of modern world history. Each literary selection challenges students to improve their moral imaginations and enhance their enjoyment of great and good literature. From the young nosey young woman from Kent in Lear's humorous limerick, "There Was a Young Lady" to Morpurgo's novel of Joey, a farm horse on frontlines during World War I in War Horse, students learn to celebrate beauty, identify virtues, and discern consequences.

Students in Modern World History-Based Language Arts participate in a private virtual classroom in which IEW® Accomplished Instructor, Ericka McClelland, guides them through their weekly language lab investigations. After class, students download their weekly 4-day assignment schedule and customized checklists required to complete the week's assignments.
